$3 Million Highway Bids Set Biggest Letting In 3 Years

The largest letting of highway construction projects in the last three years will follow opening of bids on Dec. 17, L. M. Res, state engineer, said Wednesday. Estimated cost of the work up for bidding on that date is $3,775,000.

The Wayne-Wakefield relocation project, which had to be dropped after an attorney general's opinion this week questioned the department's authority to change the route, would have lifted the total above the four million dollar mark. This would have been the largest letting in department history.

As the Dec. 17 schedule now stands, it is the largest dollar volume of work offered to contract since December, 1950, when the figure was $3,881,000. The 1950 letting included $1,717,000 of work financed with Army Engineer funds in connection with the Harlan Dam construction.

The Dec. 17 letting will involve 105 miles of state highways, county roads and city streets. It will require an estimated $2,320,000 of federal-aid funds, $1,435,000 of state highway funds and $20,000 of county funds.

The principle jobs involving state highway funds provide for grading, structures and concrete paving on 16 miles; grading, structures and bituminous surfacing on 28 miles and grading, structures and later gravel surfacing on 33 miles.

The paying jobs include 10.7 miles on U. S. 77 north of the junction with U. S. 30A near Mead and 5.4 miles on U. S. 73W between Oakland and a point north of Craig. Most of the concrete will be laid on U. S. 77 over the existing bituminous mat, with a sandgravel layer in between.

Other projects include the first steps toward making West Dodge Street in Douglas County a divided highway. Shoulder and culvert widening, 2 1/2 miles east and 2 1/2 miles west of the cloverleaf junction of U. S. 6 with U. S. 30A and 275 and Neb. No. 92.

Polio Victim, 19, Thankful For Steady Progress
By MARILENE K. SWANSON
Star Staff Writer
Charlene Durham will give thanks this Thanksgiving for now being able to accomplish a most simple and ordinary act: breathing.

The 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Durham of 2600 C, Charlene has been an almost-complete paraplegic as a result of the polio attack she suffered in July, 1951.

After living in an iron lung for almost a year, then graduating to a chest respirator, Charlene was presented with a new type of breathing aid for polio patients by the local chapter of the National Foundation.

The aid, a "rocking" bed, has been developed within the last two years. By using the bed, Charlene eventually will be able to depend less and less on the chest respirator. At the present time, she has been using the chest respirator during her rest periods and at night.

"Recovery goes in steps—but it sometimes takes a long time," Charlene said. The final step in her recovery will be "breathing alone—all the time."

The rocking bed, which not only helps Charlene breathe by forcing her diaphragm up and down but also acts as an exerciser.

Ottawa Insists It Must Have Final Say On Whether Evidence Shall Be Made Public

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada offered Wednesday to let U.S. officials question Igor Gouzenko secretly on Soviet espionage, but the chairman of the U.S. Senate Internal Security Committee in Washington quickly balked at a condition attached. That condition concerned a question of publicity.

The Dominion government announced officially it was willing to set up a private interview with the former Soviet diplomatic code clerk — provided Gouzenko is willing and the Canadian government retains the right to veto public disclosure of any resulting evidence.

The Internal Security Subcommittee has been trying to get permission to talk with Gouzenko while it explores all the offshoots of the Harry Dexter White case.

Father and son were held in $100,000 and $50,000 bond respectively at Suffolk County Jail for hearing Dec. 9. Mrs. O'Brien was released in $1,000 personal recognizance.

No Details
The federal agency refused to disclose details of the arrest other than to say O'Brien and his wife were arrested at their home in the middle-class Wolcott section of Quincy and their son was taken in Cambridge.

It was learned, however, that the FBI does not consider the case solved with the arrest of the O'Briens. Some money was seized but federal men refused to disclose the amount or where it was found.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Edmund D. Hassan also said he was "not prepared to give details at this time."

The FBI declined further details saying that "the case is still under investigation." They said O'Brien had served state prison terms for larceny and burglary.

From three to five men were believed to have participated in the March 25, 1952 robbery, which occurred while the truck's three guards were in a drug store.

It was the biggest armored car robbery in United States history and the second largest cash theft on the nation's criminal records — exceeded only by the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery in Boston in 1950.

Ironically, the truck looted in Danvers was garaged in the same building in Boston's north end where the Brink's robbery occurred.

The Dec. 17 letting will involve 105 miles of state highways, county roads and city streets. It will require an estimated $2,320,000 of federal-aid funds, $1,435,000 of state highway funds and $20,000 of county funds.

Traditional Dinner To Be Served At State Institutions
More than 10,000 employees and inmates in Nebraska state institutions will enjoy traditional Thanksgiving dinners Thursday. Turkey with all the trimmings will be served in most of the institutions although goose and chickens will be substituted at some. William E. Diers, chairman of the Board of Control, said.

Thanksgiving dinner at the Lancaster County Jail will feature roast pork. Also on the menu are celery and onion dressing, potatoes and gravy, tossed salad, cranberry sauce, date roll and coffee. Mrs. Merle Karnopp, wife of the county sheriff, reported.

City's Tax Collections Leading '52
19.67% Of Total Levy Received In October
City tax collections for the first month of the new fiscal year got off to a flying start with October receipts of $342,245.42 representing 19.67 per cent of the total levy.

Finance Director Theo Berg described the collections as "a very good start." Collected on a larger levy during the first month last year was $264,121 or 14.22 per cent of that year's levy.

Berg stated that the city itself made a better start this year by getting tax statements out earlier. Also, he said, people appeared to be anxious to get their taxes paid this year.

Collected in book taxes during October of the 1953-54 year was $1,238 for a total month's collection of $353,484. That is a total of $82,468 more than the total for October last year.

It was also noted by Berg that collections this year do not include any auto taxes. Auto taxes collected by the city last year will be collected this year by the county and the city's share apportioned back to it.

In his report for October, City Treasurer Frank J. Miller showed a total cash balance in all city funds combined of $2,749,972. This balance consists of $428,650 in the general fund, $266,680 in other wholly or partially supported tax funds, $866,731 in self-sustaining funds which involve no tax money, $250,929 in definite purpose funds and $936,980 in special assessment district funds.

A Thanksgiving Message

By DR. C. VIN WHITE
Pastor, First Presbyterian Church

We are all grateful to be called to a day of Thanksgiving. Every occasion of gratitude helps us probe our hearts and search our minds in order to find the values by which a nation can live and the truths by which it is supported.

America is grateful this year that the Almighty has helped it retain a conscience that can be shocked, festering it from preaching why is practiced. There is hope so long as irresponsibility is censured and faithfulness is commended.

We give thanks to Almighty God that decency has withstood the onslaughts of vulgarity, that only a few people actually put their trust in things that perish, and that a smeared reputation does not necessarily indicate a diseased character.

We bow in thankful reverence that the strength of our nation is measured in terms of family stability, personal integrity, sound public education, free enterprise and clean government. We thank God that the richness of our nation is computed not in the number of our allies but in the affection of our friends; not in the demands insisted upon but in the service rendered; not in profits gained but in needy people benefited.

Thanks be to the great God of the nations who with strong providence sustains, who with kind mercy revives and who with divine love forgives. "O come, let us bow down, let us kneel before the Lord our Maker."

It is a day of American tradition for every fighting man in Korea, except the 22. Tradition says Thanksgiving is a day to thank God for the soldiers in Korea, except the 22.

The 22 are the ones who are held in Indian Village nearby. They are the ones who chose Communism, or so the Reds say. They will share nothing with their erstwhile comrades of the U. S. 8th Army on this Thanksgiving Day but the fine weather. It is mild for late November in cold Korea. It is like a fall day back home.

It is a day of American tradition for every fighting man in Korea, except the 22. Tradition says Thanksgiving is a day to thank God for the soldiers in Korea, except the 22.

For the 22, say their Indian guards, it is the usual Oriental menu—rice, strange and alien vegetables, and a little pork. Tradition says this is a day to thank God for the soldiers in Korea, except the 22.

Communists rule the camp where the 22 Americans are. Some among the Americans are only frightened or bewildered young men. But they must bow to their hard-core leaders, who worship only power.

Thanksgiving is a day of hospitality. Many U. S. soldiers are hosts today to their Korean friends and war orphans. South Korean soldiers and their families. But not the 22.

No Choice
The 22 have no choice in the matter. Their Korean "friends" are the 328 South Korean soldiers Communists who share their compound, their huts and tents, and their food.

It is a holiday for all U. S. soldiers in Korea, except for the 22. Within the limits of security, U. S. soldiers are free to go anywhere, look at a service football game, listen to the radio.

But the 22 can go nowhere except around the compound of barbed wire, Korean thatched-roof huts and tents. There is no football, no radio, but if they want to relax and read there are stacks of Communist books and pamphlets.

There have been four Thanksgivings in Korea now, and this is the first that U. S. soldiers have enjoyed without shelling.

It is an uneasy truce. The Big Red War machine still stands across the quiet demilitarized zone. But at least no one is being killed, and for all that soldiers give thanks.

And on this peaceful Thanksgiving Day the hope that soon they may be rotated home runs high among all U. S. soldiers—except the 22.

Hyman Called Red Spy

Ex-Lab Worker
Refuses Answers

NEW YORK (AP)—An angry Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) Wednesday denounced a defiant witness as apparently "the most active Communist espionage agent this subcommittee has uncovered to date."

McCarthy's face reddened with anger at times as the witness, Harry A. Hyman, one-time employee in an electronics laboratory, refused time and again to say whether he was a Red or a spy.

The Wisconsin Senator flatly labeled him a "sleazy character—an undercover spy for the communists."

"Hyman was given the opportunity to tell us whether or not he is a spy," McCarthy declared, "but he takes advantage of the Constitution which he would destroy."

Two other scheduled witnesses at the second day of open hearings before the Senate Permanent Investigations Subcommittee also aroused the chairman's ire.

McCarthy said he will seek contempt indictments against both men, one a Columbia University professor and former Ft. Monmouth, N.J., employee, the other also from Ft. Monmouth.

The professor, Harry Grundfest, balked at McCarthy's questions, although he denied any espionage. The Ft. Monmouth man, Marcel Ullman, didn't even show up at the hearing.

McCarthy said a transcript of Grundfest's testimony will be sent to President Grayson L. Kirk of Columbia University.

Showdown hearings opened Tuesday into McCarthy's charges of "extremely dangerous" espionage at Ft. Monmouth, headquarters of the army signal corps' top secret radar defense against atomic attack.

The army announced its own investigation failed to uncover any evidence of current espionage at Ft. Monmouth.

McCarthy then called public hearings and said he would let the nation decide whether he exaggerated the Ft. Monmouth situation in reports on last month's private sessions of his subcommittee.

Mrs. J. P. Palmer Dies In Missouri

Mrs. Jesse P. Palmer, 74, of 3095 Stratford, died of a heart attack Tuesday night in Kansas City, Mo. She was en route to visit friends.

Mrs. Palmer, mother-in-law of C. C. Sheldon, an assistant attorney general, had made her home in Lincoln since last January. A native of Chicago, Mrs. Palmer lived in Omaha from 1908 to 1949 when she moved to Scottsbluff following the death of her husband.

She was a member of the First Central Congregational Church in Omaha and was affiliated with First-Plymouth Congregational Church in Lincoln. She had been state president of the women's group of the church. Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Chauncey C. Sheldon of Lincoln and two grandchildren.

Goose Skeptical Before Thanksgiving

Mrs. M. L. Cameron, 3717 No. 60th, is unable to get very close to the big goose she trapped in her garage after the bird flew into her yard. Understandably doubtful of

Mrs. Cameron's intentions at this time of year, the goose made several flights around the garage before this picture could be snapped. (Star Staff Photo.)

Backyard Crash Landing Is Providing Lincoln Family's Thanksgiving Dinner

Thanksgiving dinner for the M. L. Cameron family of 3717 No. 60th flew into their backyard Tuesday.

A big, blue and white goose swooped into the Cameron yard, bumped into a tree, and fell to the ground.

Mrs. Cameron, with the aid of a passing motorist, trapped the bird in the garage—where the goose is being fattened preparatory to gracing the family dinner table.

Although the bird arrived in time for Thanksgiving, Mrs. Cameron says she won't be able to get the bird dressed in time for the day. She plans to serve roast goose on Sunday.

Lloyd Vance of the State Game Department said the goose probably escaped from a farm as domestic geese have limited powers of flight. He said the bird is not a wild variety as the wild geese are basking in southern sunshine by this time.

News Around The Globe

Action On Segregation Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—Moves to combat racial segregation in the armed services and the District of Columbia were announced by officials Wednesday.

They were:

1. The District of Columbia Board of Commissioners—the city's ruling body—ordered all its agencies to hire and fire without regard to race, creed or color.
2. Assistant Secretary of Defense Hannah reaffirmed his department's intention to end racial segregation in schools on military posts by the start of the 1955 school year.
3. The Air Force said that issuance of reprimands to Negro officers who refused to follow segregation practices on trains and buses in the South would be stopped, if an investigation shows that such reprimands are being made.

Clubhouse Dinner

AUGUSTA, Ga. (INS)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower made plans Wednesday for a quiet Thanksgiving dinner with their immediate family in the clubhouse at the August National Golf Course.

White House spokesman Murray Snyder said Mr. Eisenhower and the first lady will attend Thanksgiving services at the Reid Memorial Presbyterian Church at 10:30 a.m. Thursday.

The family dinner will wait until 7 p.m. in order to permit Maj. John Eisenhower, the President's son, to make the trip to Augusta from his post at Ft. Benning, Ga., where he will have an earlier turkey dinner with his men.

Jenner Backs Joe

BEDFORD, Ind. (AP)—Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) said Wednesday he thinks Communist infiltration of government "will be a political issue next year and right on through 1956."

Sen. Jenner, chairman of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, said the record of Communist infiltration "is pretty well documented."

The Indiana Senator said he thought Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) in his Tuesday night speech made "a fine presentation of the facts."

Dean, Rhee Meet

PANMUNJOM (Thursday) (INS)—United States Special Ambassador Arthur H. Dean held a closed door meeting today with South Korean President Syngman Rhee following South Korea's denunciation of India's role as neutral custodian of Indian war prisoners.

The South Korean office of public information in a blistering statement yesterday accused India of "unneutral acts" and demanded that Indian custodial troops be stripped of weapons immediately.

Czech Wounded

INCHON, Korea (Thursday) (AP)—A Czechoslovakian truce inspection officer apparently shot and wounded himself this morning, one day before he was to return to North Korea, the U.N. Command said.

It identified the Communist officer as Lt. Col. Voltech Borda, a member of the neutral nations inspection team stationed at this port city.

Polio Fund Goal Is 50% Above 1954

Members of the campaign committee for the March of Dimes polio fund met Wednesday at the Cornhusker Hotel and set the 1955 goal for 50 per cent more money than was collected in the 1954 drive.

Adna Dobson, chairman of the committee, emphasized the need for more money collected during the coming drive which will be held during January, 1955.

"The last hurdle remains to be cleared so that this disease will become a thing of the past. We are on the fourth front now—the front of prevention. Additional funds will provide more gamma globulin, which gives a certain amount of immunity from the paralytic effects of polio, and will aid in the development of a polio vaccine, which will guarantee complete immunity," Dobson said.

Col. Lee Liggett and Ray Osborn, members of the committee, presented a report of a preliminary March of Dimes meeting held in Des Moines, Ia.

In PURSUIT of HAPPINESS

By J. GORDON ROBERTS

What is behind material success? "When I was a small boy, my father counseled me:

"Never worry about how smart you are in comparison with the other fellow. In the first place, you can't be thinking about what you're doing if you're worrying about what someone else might be doing."

"But even more important than that, such comparisons really don't matter even if the other fellow actually has the edge."

"If a problem requires five hours for you to work out, and only three hours for another fellow to solve, very likely the other fellow will spend only about ten minutes on it, anyway."

"Thinking is not hard work, though, once you lose your fear of it. Worry paralyzes the capacity of many folks to think, makes constructive thinking so difficult, worry over 'comparison' with someone else."

"Thomas Edison had trouble in school. Did that blight his life? It might have."

"If your problem concerns the possible actions of someone else, consider the individual impersonally as a problem, and follow the same rule. Hoe your own row."

Big 3 Challenges Kremlin On Austrian Treaty Talk

'Note War' Offensive Renewed

WASHINGTON (INS) — The U.S., Britain and France told Russia Wednesday that only "the attitude of the Soviet government" stands in the way of Austrian peace treaty discussions and challenged the Kremlin to do something about it.

The western powers called upon the Soviet Union to set forth through any channel it chooses the Russian terms for giving Austria her long-promised independence and promised "prompt and careful consideration."

But U.S. diplomats predicted that the latest attempt to break the deadlock imposed by the Soviets would result only in repetition of the Russian tactics of evasion, confusion and injection of such extraneous issues as Red China's role in world affairs.

The American, British and French ambassadors in Moscow renewed the Big Three offensive in what some diplomats call the "note war" by handing the Soviet Foreign Office similar messages on the question of an Austrian settlement.

Still No Treaty

The U. S. communication made these points:

1. Ten years after the Big Four allies of World War II signed a declaration in Moscow promising Austria complete political and economic independence, there is still no treaty.
2. The Soviet government has twice refused invitations from the Western Big Three for a foreign ministers' conference aimed at finding a way to solve the German and Austrian problems.
3. So far this year, the Western powers have twice asked Russia to attend meetings of the foreign ministers' deputies, who have conferred fruitlessly a total of 250 times on the Austrian treaty issue.
4. The U.S. repeated, for the purpose of emphasis, its previous statement that the Austrian treaty tentatively proposed by the West, and objected to by the Soviets, has been withdrawn.

The American note said: "The U. S. government believes that nothing stands in the way of the resumption of discussions on the Austrian state treaty except the attitude of the Soviet government."

'No Change' In LT&T Negotiations

An informal meeting to exchange revised proposals on wage issues between the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the Communications Workers of America (CIO) has made "no change" in negotiations, Merle Hale, vice president of the company, reported.

Hale said that the meeting was held "to determine if there was an area for bargaining" between the union and the company. "The negotiations are no closer to a settlement," he said.

The chief union bargainer, James West, said that there was "an exchange of revised proposals by both the union and the company."

The union rejected the company's proposal, West said. "The union evaluated the company's revised proposal to be an average increase of $1.43 a week or 3 1/2 cents an hour."

The reason for the rejection, he said, was that "it would widen the differential of established rates between Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph employees and the employees of Northwestern Bell in similar exchanges." It also would "widen the differential" within the company, he said.

The wage issue is the only one still in dispute.

Two Good Friends

South of the border there are a lot of people who feel deeply that the Canadians are good neighbors—actually the best—the kind of neighbors any country can and should cherish. North of the border there are a lot of Canadians who look upon the people of the United States with the same deep respect and friendliness.

If one is to measure the confidence and trust which the peoples of neighboring countries place in each other, they need only to recall that for over a distance of more than 3,000 miles there has never been a frowning frown on either side of the border. There is a real model for international relationships.

Canada and the United States have enjoyed and will continue to enjoy a strong friendship. Nothing precipitated by the recent difference over the desire of a congressional committee to listen to the story of a man who contributed so greatly to breaking up a Russian spy ring will destroy that friendship. There are some unkind things being said in the Canadian press, some pretty ugly charges at this time. In our judgment, Canada has a right to be a little bit irked. But the important thing is that these two good neighbors continue to get along in the future as well as they have in the past.

No one could ask for more.

Resurrecting Wild Bill

President Eisenhower's fondness for wild and woolly westerners has become common knowledge since Ike took up residence at the White House. Why not? Here in the American Midlands, America's heart may be found, many of us like to think, and in thinking it we are sincere.

The Omaha World-Herald seems to feel that the President overreached himself the other night when in addressing the B'nai B'rith Anti-Defamation League, after accepting its award, Mr. Eisenhower resurrected "Wild Bill" Hickok, the legendary sheriff of Abilene. Figuratively the President hauled "Wild Bill" from out of his grave to illustrate the point that it was sound Americanism for the accuser to face up with the accused—that no one should ever sneak up on anybody. The President was speaking extemporaneously.

We haven't any notion how historically accurate his knowledge of "Wild Bill's" code for the western frontier is, but undoubtedly the President's suggested model of American conduct for 1953 with "Wild Bill" as an example can get an argument as well as inspire a lot of titillation. To some, "Wild Bill" remains a hero. To others he was more or less of an unsavory character. To all of us he comes from out of the dim past, and that is one of the unfortunate qualities that the Eisenhower leadership has revealed thus far. Too much of it has come from out of the dim past and too much of it has suggested an ignorance of American tradition.

Whether 'tis better to chuckle over the President's decision to make a hero out of "Wild Bill," or to take issue with him over a controversial figure obscured by the legends

Of Men And Things

This being Thanksgiving Day, the editor invited a well-known character, going by the name of "Bronze," a magnificent turkey, to do a guest column on the subject, "Reflections on the part of the editor to get this brief tale down on paper. It appears that "Bronze," like a lot of us, was so busy from sunup to sundown that he never had time for writing, and when night came he was too darned tired to collect his thoughts. This is the life story of "Bronze," appealing in its simplicity.

"I have always had a deep, abiding love for the land of my birth. I was born in the Nebraska Sandhills, 30 miles from a railroad, where skies seem bluest, unbroken silences the most peaceful, and the rolling, towering hills a symbol of great strength and purpose.

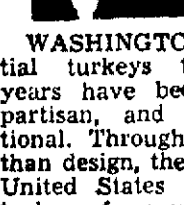

I remember my first glimpse of blue sky. The gray dawn had carried a chill and I was shaking with cold. I had crowded against my little brothers and sisters to keep warm. Then I felt, rather than saw, the rays of the mounting sun, and gazing about me I came to the conclusion that this was a good world into which I had been born. I never have had any reason to change the first impression of my world. It has been good, doubly good, to me. It has fed me, sustained me. My mother gave me to understand early that it was up to me to do my own foraging, a responsibility which I did not take lightly but which I found was not too difficult. I remember her early warning. Keep your feathers dry, she would say to us. We are so susceptible to dampness, to cold, and to rain. Soon I learned to watch for the storm and to seek shelter promptly. I rejoiced in newfound strength. Along with my brothers and sisters, we roamed the hills, hunted food, dozed in the mellow sunshine and before I knew it, I found my owner pointing a finger of pride towards me."

"Spring merged into summer without warning. The days grew longer, the hours of darkness shorter. Now all of us found it possible to roam the hills more—to take in hills we had never seen. There were times when we hid in the grass—times when we came upon strange creatures—unfriendly. Later my mother told me that we could not trust them—they were our hereditary enemies."

"There came a time when I discovered, much to my surprise, that I had won a place of leadership. Where I led, the others followed. If I chose to search for food along the banks of a clear stream, shortly I found myself surrounded by the others. If I sought refuge in the hills, it was only a matter of moments before all the others were around me. For the first time I became conscious of my strength, my size, and my position of authority. I, sick and weakly in the beginning, towered above my brothers and sisters and they stood aside to let me pass. Those summer days were filled with happiness. Later I came to know that they were the happiest days of a life now drawing to a close."

"It seems that in these closing lines, I should express in the spirit of Thanksgiving my thanks. For what? It has not been my lot to be hunted before one of these congressional investigating committees deriving into Communistic activities, or to be confronted by charges made by Sen. Joe McCarthy. For that, I am grateful."

President Will Dine On Nebraska Turkey

WASHINGTON — Presidential turkeys throughout the years have been strictly non-partisan, and usually nonsectarian. Through accident more than design, the President of the United States usually gets his turkeys from widely separated geographical areas. . . . Eisenhower's first Thanksgiving turkey as President comes from near Lincoln, Neb., a 39-pound, broad-breasted, bronze tom donated by Roscoe Hill, head of the National Turkey Federation. . . . Truman usually got his gobblers from Wilton E. Hall, Anderson, S. C., publisher. . . . President Roosevelt's birds came from a fancier in Rhode Island, who liked to demonstrate that of the six standard varieties of domesticated turkeys — bronze, Narragansett, buff, slate, white and black—the bronze Narragansett are the largest. . . . President Taft got his turkeys from Tazewell County, Va., from where Queen Victoria always received turkeys every year during her reign. . . . Vice President Barkley claimed that the Kentucky birds raised by the late John W. Perry near Frankfort, Ky., were the best. . . . Woodrow Wilson got his turkeys from Senator Ollie James of Kentucky, who insisted that blue-grass-fed turkeys were better than any others. . . . Eisenhower will be the second president to spend his Thanksgiving in Georgia. FDR usually carved his turkey at Warm Springs, Ga., where five birds were necessary to satisfy the appetites of all the polio-stricken youngsters. The late President himself carved the first turkey, surrounded by 12 boys and girls who drew lots to see who would sit next to him.

THANKSGIVING IN WHITE HOUSE

Most people have forgotten it, but Thanksgiving began as a purely Republican holiday. For years, the Democrats were opposed, called it a northern holiday that trampled on state's rights. They were dead set against centralization of power in Washington—just as Republicans have been in later years—so when George Washington asked Congress in 1789 to set aside a holiday to be observed by the entire country, there was vigorous Southern objection.

It was not until about 75 years later that the so-called "New England holiday" was made a national holiday, and this was largely because merchants along the sleepy Potomac saw the advantage of Thanksgiving as a chance to boom trade. Specifically, Washington grocers and wine merchants in 1845 woke up to the possibilities of the national holiday and began to advertise "60 barrels of white wine, 40 barrels of champagne and New York cider, all by recent

MARQUIS CHILDS

Guilt By Charge, Not By Proof Is Problem

WASHINGTON—A deep seated conviction for fair play and decency in human relations is one of the underlying traits of President Eisenhower's character. It comes out again and again in the warm and impulsive remarks he makes both in press conference and on more formal occasions.

That impulse was evident in his brief talk to the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith when the president was given the league's democratic legacy award. He said that every man should have the right to face his accuser. No one, said the President, can hide in the shadows while practicing character assassination.

Those simple words could be related directly to many of the disturbing aspects of the current compulsive search for total security in an insecure world. But the members of his staff who, as the President pointed out, had so thoroughly briefed him for his talk believe he had one particular instance in mind as he spoke. That was the case of Lieutenant Milo J. Radulovich of the Air Force Reserve who had been found on the base of a record full of anonymous accusation to be a security risk.

THE PRESIDENT

had personally concerned himself with the Radulovich case. The final responsibility rested on Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbott. But Mr. Eisenhower wanted to make sure that the young reserve officer got fair play. Secretary Talbott has now found that Radulovich is not a security risk. He overruled the findings of an air force board that held the young officer a security risk because of continuing association with his father and sister who were in turn alleged to have had Communist associations. Radulovich denied under oath he had been influenced ideologically either by the sister or the father.

The charge seemed to many equivalent to the "blood guilt" of a primitive time. The case attracted wide attention after Radulovich hired lawyers to fight publicly to retain his status. Talbott has shown common sense and in the context of our troubled times—courage in finding for the accused officer. Investigation of the father's background did not warrant the accusations made anonymously against him. They seem to have grown out of a bitter partisan quarrel within the elder Radulovich's trade union in Detroit.

In many ways the Radulovich case illustrates the dilemma of the day. Within the Air Force it has been said that if the 20-year-packet from New York via Alexandria. . . . For a long time, Thanksgiving was no holiday for the President. Because immediately afterward he faced an arduous lame-duck session when members of Congress, recently defeated in November, came back to wind up their labors before they left office on March 4. These lame-duck sessions were the most heterogeneous and irresponsible of all. Few presidents could keep them in day, and Thanksgiving day usually saw the President of the United States spending all of his holiday working on his coming message on the state of the union.

Today, with the lame-duck session of Congress eliminated and the regular session opening in January, Eisenhower is not quite so harried, though even so, his advisers are already worried about what will happen when Congress, plus a lot of irate Democrats, comes back to town.

FDR'S OLD BRAIN TRUSTER

The redoubtable Colonel McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, not content with being one of the chief supporters of Senator McCarthy, has also undertaken to police the University of Chicago. Specifically, a monitor from the Chicago Tribune showed up in a class given by Professor Rexford Guy Tugwell, former top member of the Roosevelt brain trust, and sat patiently through a series of lectures. Furthermore he managed to stay awake.

Tugwell came to Washington from Columbia University as one of the little group who wrote FDR's speeches, became undersecretary of agriculture, later governor of Puerto Rico. Since then he has been a top member of the University of Chicago and has lectured for the Chicago Institute for Planning.

His classes are large and he can't keep track of every student so didn't pay much attention to the out-of-place student from the Chicago Tribune. At the end of the semester, however, the auditor came up to him in some disgust.

"I don't know what the hell you've been talking about," he remarked, "but I don't think it's communism or socialism."

A Tribune editor, asked about the incident, confessed: "I had to send that man on the direct order of Colonel McCormick."

NOTE—The Newspaper Guild, which has been trying to organize The Tribune, argued facetiously that reporters were required to undergo "cruel and unusual punishment beyond the line of duty" in listening to the Tugwell lectures. "Yes," countered another reporter, "but that's not as bad as having to listen to Colonel McCormick." (Copyright, 1953, by Bell Syndicate)

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: This writer has been amazed in witnessing the attempt of the State Bar association to commit a State Unicameral to the ideology that the state of Nebraska indirectly should make itself a collection agency for dues paying by its membership. Indirectly, it seems to me, the state would become the agency of dues collecting, by denying to members of the bar the right to represent a client before the courts, unless his dues are paid. That is carrying things to an absurd conclusion for a highly respected profession.

But why single out the bar? Why not bring into this chosen method of dues collecting the Schoolmasters' club? Why not deny teachers the right to teach in our public schools unless their dues have been paid the said association, or the editors to print legal notices unless they belong and have paid their dues to the State Press Association? Paying such dues neither makes a lawyer a lawyer, a teacher a teacher or a printer a printer.

Must the ability and integrity of an attorney to represent a client be determined by dues paying to the state bar association? What kind of jurisprudence is that? And what becomes of the rugged individualism of the bar that has given us its great exponents?

Lincoln has been caught in rather a peculiar situation and a very regrettable one in handling the auditorium situation. Inasmuch as there is a slight (?) diversity of opinion as to whether the auditorium should be located at 15th and N or 33rd and O Streets, I have this suggestion to make. Why not provide a mail extending from O Street on the north to the Lincoln High School on the south, with our public buildings on either side facing the center? Located on either side of this mail should be the city-county buildings, the auditorium and other public buildings that Lincoln is destined to have in the future. This would bring all of the respective activities close enough to the business section to be of easy access and at the same time bring them closer to the center of the residential area and provide parking space also. It would help to relieve the growing congestion in the downtown area, which would be desirable. The Elliott School on N

'Bozo'—Canine Cleptomaniac

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

A former McCook 85-pound scabcat, Bozo, has probably carried the ball more times in the last two years than any McCook High School football player.

But he confused his home for the goal line and thus is not in the official records books. And he was continually in hot water with the school authorities.

This Peck's bad dog is a muscular but friendly white and tan boxer who claims the Gresinger family of 1965 So. 50th as his patrons.

The first signs of fall are also signs of a wild and woolly time for the Gresingers. Bozo, on the first fall day he was let loose brought back home two footballs and a football helmet. Bozo's football fever has stopped a high school game in McCook. Running out onto the field, Bozo made away with the ball. However, a hard-running official caught up with him and the ball. The dog watched the remainder of the game on the end of a leash.

Bozo is a recess ball artist. The dog usually goes to the playground during recess and brings home footballs and softball—of course, stopping the ball game at the time.

Mrs. Gresinger had a regular delivery of mail from the school saying that Bozo had eliminated another ball from the school grounds and requesting payment or the ball.

Bozo, an all-around personality, took it upon himself to try education, too. He entered the kindergarten class once to the delight of the tots. But his school days came to an abrupt halt when he unceremoniously knocked the principal of the junior high school down in the hall of the school.

'TWO CENTS' AND 'BOZO' . . . both his favorite . . .

The boxer's "take home pay" does not stop at balls. He has dragged home door mats, phonograph records, bushel baskets, several coonskin caps, a stuffed bunny and even a bouquet of flowers for Mrs. Gresinger.

The two-and-a-half-year-old boxer naturally likes people. He loves to see parades. But not content simply to watch, Bozo likes to bother the pretty baton twirlers and carry off the batons.

Movies are just as exciting as sports to Bozo. He has lined up with the crowd in front of the local McCook theater more than once and is difficult to dislodge. The Gresingers don't know yet how he reacts to 3-D.

Fishing, too, is another fine sport. He went fishing with several children once and on return the fishermen told a tale of woe. Bozo grabbed right off the hook the only fish caught.

The Gresingers do not know how many horses Bozo has eaten. He is fed three pounds of horsemeat daily. Once while at a kennel the keeper decided the experiment was too expensive and quit.

But the most harried experiences that the masters have ever had with Bozo was not his fault.

The local McCook radio station disclosed that Bozo was for sale over a swap-shop program. Mrs. Gresinger was deluged with 90 phone calls in the first half-hour. For three days the family had no peace and calls poured in concerning the white and tan boxer. Even several long-distance calls were made to the home.

To every caller the insistent answer was that Bozo was not for sale.

It was a practical joke which was taken up by the serious and not-so-serious callers.

When the Gresingers moved to Lincoln, Bozo moved, too. In fact the family claims McCook residents were worried that the fun-loving dog would be left behind to prey on their town.

Bozo has his strange companions. His favorite is Two Cents, a miniature pinscher who recklessly plays with Bozo and is a constant visitor from a downstairs apartment.

When Error Entered

Grand Island, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Your editorial, "Ode To Ol' Man Hindsight," in the Nov. 20 issue of The Star, intrigues me. A world of history is enclosed and not all is understood. I'm wondering if possibly Mr. Roosevelt wasn't correct in receding Russia, but error entered later. I am a truck driver and sometimes when I start on the correct road to my destination I get lost along the way. Then all I can do is retrace to the point where I left the correct road and get back on the correct road. I have often thought that it was a tragedy of the first magnitude that Mr. Roosevelt died at the most crucial period of the post-war reconstruction. Lesser men took over the reins of government, and sometimes when they wrenched into our foreign policy and the wartime agreements were broken on both sides.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Bill Dobler's feature article in The Star on Nov. 23 on the sanitary disposal plant was very good and I appreciated it. I also appreciated his article on the City Hall.

Street would be facing this area on the east and of course would have to remain there. The swimming pool would have to be taken out of that area, but as we need a new swimming pool anyway, it would be better elsewhere.

This arrangement would be patterned after the capitol in Washington, D. C., which has a mall to the west, with the government buildings arranged on either side.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Since I am only seven years old, my mommy is helping me write this letter. I have had muscular dystrophy since I was about three years old. 4 Nebraska 4-H Girls Win Trips To Chicago

Four Nebraska girls have been named sectional winners in National 4-H Club contests and will receive trips to the 32nd National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago opening this week end.

Sandra Hill of Polk has been named sectional Community Relations winner. Myrtle Karloff of Leshara has been named sectional Entomology winner. Janet Kuska, of Omaha, has been named sectional Leadership winner. Sandra Ball of Hemingford has been named sectional Achievement winner.

Other Nebraska youths who will be honored with a trip to the Club Congress will be the Burwell Rockettes of Garfield County and the Rhythm Rangers of Cherry County. These 4-H talent entries in the state "Share the Fun" program have been selected to participate in the U.S. Rubber Co. "Share the Fun" breakfast program on Dec. 3.

Miss Hill, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hill, has carried 15 4-H club projects since 1945 and in addition has participated in such community relations projects as soliciting for flood relief, collecting feed sacks to send to Japan, sending CARE packages, encouraging the establishment of a 4-H club in Japan. She has won a $150 scholarship in 4-H public speaking.

Miss Karloff, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Karloff, has completed 24 projects in five years of 4-H club work. Her net income on her projects reached a total of $629.69.

Miss Kuska, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Val Kuska, has completed 68 projects in her nine years of 4-H club activities. She has secured 61 new club members for the Mount View 4-H Club. She represented Douglas County in the State Cherry Pie Baking Contest for two years, was a member of the top Dairy Demonstration team in 1952, has participated in Timely Topic Speaking contests and has served as assistant club leader of a club of small girls.

Miss Ball, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Ball, has completed 49 projects in 12 years of club membership. This year her meal planning and preparation project involved 2,701 recipes and the serving of 887 meals. She also made 11 articles for her room improvement projects and completed 40 garments.

Denver Stump Awarded $2,223 In Injury Suit

OMAHA (AP)—A District Court jury awarded Denver W. Stump of Lancaster County, Neb., $2,223 for injuries suffered in a September, 1952, accident on Highway 130 near Elkhorn.

The judgment was returned against the John Deere Plow Co., Omaha. The company's truck was involved in the collision. The trial was in Judge James Fitzgerald's court.

Drive Ups Chest-RC Joint Plan

Final Total $5,330
More Than The Goal

The successful united campaign of the Lincoln Community Chest and Red Cross demonstrated public support of putting all recognized social service agencies' financial needs in one campaign. Willard Townsend said Wednesday.

Townsend, general chairman, presented the final audited report of the 27th consecutive campaign. The drive, he said, demonstrated that the giving public wanted the annual Red Cross campaign combined in a joint effort with the Community Chest.

Townsend said 35,034 persons participated, the largest number of contributors in campaign history. This was 3,372 more persons than gave last year. The final total was $488,446.94, or $6,380.94 more than the goal. The sum of $3,589.13 was reported after the campaign closed Nov. 4.

Contributions High

Lincoln secured 35.03 contributions per 100 persons in the community, or 50 per cent more than the national average of 23.24, Townsend said. The community is also ahead of the average overall gift with an average of $13.95, or 31 per cent more than the national average of $10.63. In the average per capita gift comparison, Lincoln records $4.99, or 80 per cent more than the national per capita gift average of $2.67.

"The statistics show why the Lincoln Chest has always been so successful," Townsend said. "It does not mean we are giving more than we should, but it means we are giving more adequately to support the needed social services that help to make Lincoln the high type of city that it is."

Lincoln Motorist Unhurt In Crash

HUMBOLDT, Neb. (AP)—Roy W. Bolar of 325 So. 26th St., Lincoln, escaped injury when his car overturned during his efforts to avoid striking Karen Suedemier, 12, on the outskirts of Humboldt. Bolar's car brushed the girl, who received minor injuries.

Cornerstone Laid For Addition To Hospital

OMAHA (AP)—The cornerstone was laid here for a $375,000 addition to the Immanuel Hospital School of Nursing.

The addition will provide dormitory and training facilities for 135 students. It is about one-third completed.

State Industry Advertising Planned

The State Resources Division will go into St. Louis next week and Detroit the week of Dec. 7 with its advertising campaign exploiting Nebraska's advantages as a location for industrial plants.

Division Chief C. V. Price said the advertisement will appear three days in all newspapers in each city.

He will be in each city the week of the advertising campaign there to answer inquiries. "We find this is one of our best projects," he commented.

The plan was tried in Chicago recently, and out of that campaign came a dozen personal contacts and several letters which "simmered down to four first class prospects," Price reported.

Price expressed opinion the division is "getting more for its money" with this plan of campaign than almost anything else it has tried.

The first move in this direction was a special supplement in the Sunday edition of a New York newspaper over a year ago.

Other Nebraska publicity which Nebraska has had was in the special Louisiana Purchase edition of a New Orleans newspaper, and in the Christian Science Monitor.

The advertisement which will go into the St. Louis and Detroit newspapers cites Nebraska's supply of good labor, with these other advantages:

1. Low cost electric power.
2. Abundant natural gas.
3. Practically unlimited constant-temperature water.
4. Main line transportation in all directions.
5. No income tax.
6. Progressive communities organized and ready to build plants for sale or lease.

St. Louis and Detroit were selected because of labor and tax conditions in the two cities.

Thanksgiving Day '53 Proclamation

Gov. Robert Crosby Wednesday issued the state's official Thanksgiving Day proclamation for 1953.

The complete text:

"The first Thanksgiving Day was observed by our forefathers out of their deep conviction that God is the source of the good and abundant life. As He permitted them to prosper, so has He in 1953 showered us with manifold blessings.

"Grateful for our material blessings, our liberties, and our opportunities, let us on this Thanksgiving Day attend the house of worship of our choice to seek guidance from the Almighty and to reaffirm the spiritual values on which this nation was founded.

"Therefore, I, Robert B. Crosby, governor of Nebraska, proclaim Thursday, Nov. 26, 1953, as Thanksgiving Day in Nebraska."

Columbus Lodge Is Reprimanded By Liquor Board

The Liquor Commission has reprimanded Platte Aerie No. 1834 of the Fraternal Order of Eagles at Columbus for alleged violation of credit regulations.

The lodge was cited for purchasing from a distributor to whom it owed an account more than 30 days old.

The lodge holds a Class "C" license.

Other commission action reported Wednesday included: Denied package liquor license application of Annette Artz, South Sioux City, following protest and hearing on Nov. 18.

Approved inside beer and package liquor license for Wilbur F. Hartman, Grand Island.

Approved package liquor license for the Mallard Club, Terrytown, Neb.

Cancelled inside beer license of Terry's Foods, Inc., Terrytown, at request of licensee.

Crosbys To Dine With Governor's Parents

Gov. and Mrs. Robert Crosby and daughter, Susan, plan to have Thanksgiving dinner Thursday with the governor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Crosby, at North Platte.

The governor said they would fly out and back the same day. A son, Robert, planned to remain in Lincoln with friends.

Crosby said a turkey presented him by the state's turkey growers will be cooked at the executive mansion Thursday for the household.

"I'll help finish it up when I come back. I like cold turkey," the governor commented.

STATE'S FOOD PRODUCTION IS HIGH

Much To Be Thankful For

Federal Crop Statistician A. E. Anderson took a pre-Thanksgiving look at the state's production this year and came up with the observation "despite the lack of moisture, Nebraska has much to be thankful for on the basis of food production this year."

"Nebraska still maintains its high standing in surplus production of food," the expert added.

He pointed out that the Panhandle and northern area have fared "much better" than Southern Nebraska. He cited:

Corn estimated at 204 million bushels is but 22 million below the ten year average.

Winter wheat with a total of nearly 88 million bushels was but nine million below last year's record and is 16 million bushels above the ten year average.

Oats estimated at 46 million bushels is the same as last year but 16 million below the ten year average.

The barley crop is slightly below last year and about a fourth of the average.

Rye is about two-thirds of last year's crop and about a third of the average.

Wild hay estimated at 2.3 million tons is a bit below last year but slightly over the average. The alfalfa production of 2.8 million tons was below last year yet considerably over the average. The production of all hay is 5.6 million tons against 6 million a year ago and 4.7 the ten year average.

Minor crops fared considerably better than the main crops. Grain sorghum was up, soybeans three times the average, sugar beets far above the average, dry beans considerable over the average and potatoes off 1.6 million bushels from last year.

Anderson said cattle production is at a very high level, with hog production off from last year. Chicken production was down as was turkey production.

"The most discouraging factor has been the drop in prices," Anderson commented. "Cash receipts from the sale of farm products the first eight months this year totaled $710,000,000 against $717,000,000 last year. The net income probably will show a greater decrease. Nationally, the net income is only slightly more than a third of the gross income."

Among the north central states he said Nebraska ranks:

First in sheep on feed and sugar beets; second in winter wheat, wild hay, cattle on feed and dry edible beans; fourth in barley, rye and butter; fifth in corn and all hay; sixth in sheep on farms Jan. 1; seventh in the pig crop and hogs on farms Jan. 1; ninth in oats, chickens on farms Jan. 1 and eggs; tenth in milk and milk cows.

WILBUR

"I didn't know it was loaded!"

Suit Asks $20,000

A $20,000 personal injury suit of Robert Scott against Queen E. Jackson has been filed in Lancaster District Court. Both are Lincoln residents.

Scott alleges injuries as the result of being crushed between his car, parked near his home at 1931 U, and a car driven by the defendant on Nov. 17.

Public Hearing Set

The Legislature's special committee studying accidents and their causes and means of prevention will hold a public meeting in the governor's hearing room at the state capitol here Dec. 12. The meeting starts at 9:30 a.m. Sen. Person, Wahoo, heads the committee.

North Platte Again Considering Plans For Disposal Plant

NORTH PLATTE (AP) — North Platte is considering reviving plans for a sewage disposal plant which were shelved late in World War II.

Mayor Clarence J. Frazier made this statement following a report by T. A. Filipi, state sanitary engineer, that North Platte is among Nebraska cities which should be making plans for treatment of sewage before discharging it into nearby rivers.

Frazier said the city had plans drawn up for a plant that would have cost $400,000 at that time, but City Clerk Roy Mehlmann said the project would cost considerably more at this time. The mayor said North Platte has been working toward a treatment plant for many years but the state has not made the plant compulsory and the city had not hurried into the project. He added that the city probably will begin corresponding with Filipi to learn his recommendations.

Beatrice also has serious sewage problems and is among cities for which Filipi has recommended consideration of sewage treatment plants.

In an interview Filipi said the partial treatment of sewage in Beatrice would cost about $20 per capita and complete treatment would cost $75 to $85.

He conceded that Beatrice, with seven sewers discharging into the Big Blue River, has a knotty sewer problem.

Kiwanis District Meet

State Farm Bureau Backs Flexible Price Supports

Unicameral, Sales Tax Also Favored

The Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation will stay with the national bureau's position on flexible price supports on farm products. But the decision was not reached until after more than three hours of debate during the final session of the bureau's 35th annual state convention Wednesday, and then only after delegates reviewed a two-price proposal and at length rejected an amendment basing a variable parity on actual production.

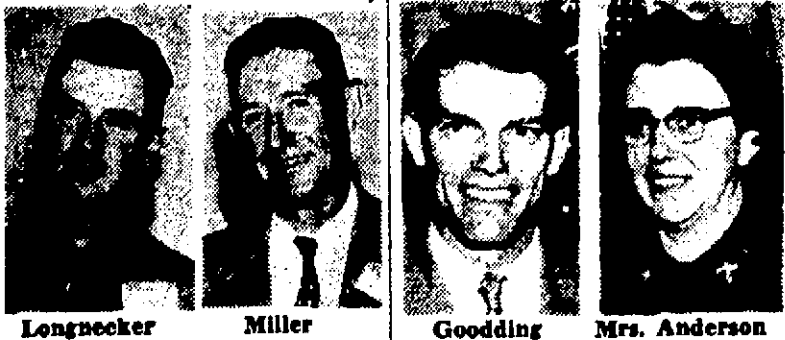

The delegates also highlighted action on 50 proposals with:

1. An endorsement of a state sales tax to replace the property tax for state purposes with surplus revenue over the state's needs going back to counties.
2. Endorsement of the unicameral over a two-house legislature, but a doubling of present senatorships with the increase being allocated geographically.
3. Support of Governor Crosby's "Operation Honesty" for more realistic personal property assessments.
4. Support of professional management for state school lands, limiting leases to four years, increasing rental income and upgrading soil conservation requirements.

The convention was united against high fixed price supports but divided sharply over the resolutions committee formula for flexible supports ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

No Amendment

A Buffalo County proposal advocating minimum price legislation akin to minimum wage provisions in national labor law

Longnecker Miller Gooding Mrs. Anderson

received lengthy consideration but failed to reach the amendment stage. It was introduced by George Jackson, Kearney, who asserted that it would eliminate crop allotments and acreage allocations while protecting a floor price for domestic consumption. Surpluses encountered by food producers, he suggested, would be marketed abroad at world prices through an envisioned federal export corporation maintained on a self-sustaining basis. His plan varied from the present advocated national range two price program in that it eliminated the processing tax feature.

But most consideration was centered on an amendment fostered by Otoe county which called for an elimination of both maximum and minimum support levels. It also called for elimination of crop allotments and acreage controls and asked for a more adequate long term federal credit program.

It was advocated by Arlo E. Wirth, Dunbar, who asserted that producers in the early 30s would not have suffered from 15 cent wheat prices had credit been available to allow them to hold their crops off the market. He attacked high support prices as "pricing food products power districts but provides for granting 20-year contracts for surplus to private power companies.

It also favored putting county supervisors on a mileage, per diem basis, urged requiring domestic corporations to supply a list of stockholders to the Secretary of State, favored expansion of normal training opportunities in high schools, opposed toll roads and powers vested in the Nebraska Turnpike authority, and asked for 72-hour notice from unions in event of strikes at terminal markets.

During the session four directors were elected. Richard Gooding, Ithaca; Charles Miller, Doniphan; M. V. Longnecker, Indianola; and Mrs. Alice Anderson, Holdrege was elected at large.

Drunk And Driving Conviction Upheld

Donald E. Swenson, 25, of 5045 Holdrege, was sentenced Wednesday by the Lancaster District Court to 30 days in the county jail on a drunk and driving charge, second offense. Swenson filed notice of appeal. Bond was fixed at $1,000. Swenson was also fined $300, ordered not to drive for one year, and his car was impounded for 60 days by the court.

Defendant was convicted by jury on Oct. 26 of the drunk driving charge which he appealed from Municipal Court. The alleged offense occurred June 30.

The District Court sentence was identical with that given by the lower court with the exception that the defendant's car was impounded by the higher court.

Alabamian Pleads Not Guilty To Auto Theft; Delay OKd

Willard G. Ralph, 27, of Cullman, Ala., pleaded not guilty Wednesday in Lancaster District Court to a charge of auto theft.

The information charges Ralph with the theft of a 1949 model automobile from Capitol Used Cars lot on Sept. 15.

On motion of the defendant's attorney and agreement by the county attorney, the case was continued for trial to the jury term following the one beginning Nov. 30. An appearance bond of $1,500 was continued.

Ralph is one of three Alabama men charged in the theft of two cars from the Lincoln car lot on Sept. 15. The other two, who pleaded guilty to a auto theft charges, were placed on two year probation in October.

Guilty Plea Entered To Burglary Count

Alvin Marcus Huffman, 34, of Ft. Worth, Texas, pleaded guilty Wednesday in Lancaster District Court to burglary of the apartment of A. W. Wilson at 803 So. 18th on Oct. 31.

Judge Harry Ankeny deferred sentence of Huffman pending further investigation of the case.

Lincoln Police said Huffman's arrest cleared burglaries of six apartment houses here during the past three weeks. Picked up for questioning by Omaha Police, Huffman reportedly admitted the Lincoln break-ins which led to discovery of the stolen articles.

Happy Thanksgiving Day

Wedding In Omaha

Pyramid arrangements of white chrysanthemums placed against a screen of huckleberry foliage, and white candles burning in pedestal candelabra, appointed the church of Pearl Memorial Methodist Church in Omaha for the marriage of Miss Sally Joan Bond, daughter of Dr. Howard H. Bond, and Edward F. Berg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bachmann, all of Omaha, on Wednesday evening, November 25.

The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Glen W. Marshall in the presence of 250 guests. Preceding the service, a prelude of organ music was presented by the church organist, who also played the wedding music and accompanied Ray Sage who sang, "At Dawning", and "Our Wedding Prayer".

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Moore of Omaha, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Ervin Prucha, also a sister of the bride, Mrs. E. Ralph Schaberg and Mrs. William Ryan, all of Omaha. The attendants' identical costumes were designed with fitted white lace basques and extremely full skirts of white silk tulle. Their frocks were accented by brief shoulder capes of lace, and they carried cascades of American Beauty roses.

The bride wore for her wedding a gown of imported white lace. A snugly-buttoned jacket fashioned with long, fitted sleeves covered the decollete bodice, and the skirt flared into minute pleats and ended in a slight train. Her French illusion veil was held by a Juliet cap of lace caught at either side of the head by a cluster of orange blossoms, and she carried a white Bible showered with gardenias and Stephanotis.

Serving his twin brother as best man was Eugene Berg of Lincoln, and seating the guests

NU Red Cross Gives Program

The University Red Cross unit presented a show of student talent at the Veterans Hospital recently. Hank Cech of Lincoln served as master of ceremonies, and students participating were Pat Syfert, Ainsworth, Bonnie Young, Broken Bow, Leigh Cartwright, Omaha, Neal Amos, Winnetka, Ill., and Marilyn Lehr Kennedy, Lincoln.

IF YOU WERE walking along Middle street in Portsmouth, N.H., this morning—or sauntering around on Beacon Hill in Boston—or perhaps taking a stroll down the road a piece—to Mansfield Four Corners in Connecticut, you would find many an old and picturesque door bedecked with ears of corn—the symbol of Thanksgiving and hospitality in New England—a very nice and attractive old New England custom.

WE MAY not find the ears of corn on the doors in Lincoln—but just on the other side is hospitality today—for, before nightfall, many a guest will have been welcomed over many a threshold—

Arriving bright and early from Chicago this morning will be Mr. and Mrs. James Baylor and their year-and-a-half-old son, James William—better known to his intimates at "Willie"—The visiting Bayers will, of course, be the Thanksgiving week-end house guests of Mr. Baylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Baylor, and his brother, John Baylor.

Competing the family circle at the Baylor Thanksgiving dinner will be Mr. Baylor's mother, Mrs. Carrie Baylor.

AND WE heard, too, that Mr. and Mrs. James Bunting and their daughter, Ann, of Omaha, will be down for the day, and will be the Thanksgiving dinner guests of Mr. Bunting's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Bunting. Mr. and Mrs. Bunting also will have as their dinner guests their daughter, Mrs. James Heriot,

Mr. and Mrs. Berg will make their home at Oakland.

A former student at William Woods College, Fulton, Mo., the bride is a graduate of the University of Nebraska School of Nursing in Omaha. Mr. Berg attended the University of Nebraska, where he is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, and for the last two years has served as assistant baseball coach at the University of Nebraska.

Patrons Are Honored

The alumnae of Delta Omicron, national music sorority, entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. E. H. Polley honoring the new patrons of the chapter, (from the left) Morris Collier, Mrs. Richard Hall and David Fowler. The program for the evening included selections from her daughter, Maury, and her son, Judd.

Bräms, Schumann, Liszt and Chopin by Herbert Schmidt, pianist, and songs, "Offronde," R. Hahn, "Und Willst Du Deinen Liebsten," Wolf, and "The Unforeseen," Scott, by Dale B. Ganz, baritone, accompanied by Mr. Schmidt.

FROM Minneapolis to Lincoln for the Thanksgiving week-end, have come Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Blass who are the house guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Lieut. Colonel and Mrs. Hugh B. Calahan. Joining Colonel and Mrs. Calahan and their house guests for dinner on Thanksgiving day will be Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Dahlquist, and Miss Hildegard Julius.

BUT WE find that in some instances Lincoln people will be guests elsewhere—Just learned that Dr. and Mrs. J. Marshall Neely will be the Thanksgiving dinner guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Williams, and Mr. Williams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Williams—

And that reminds us of some news about Mrs. Hugh Williams (the former Mary Jean Neely)—Mrs. Williams has become associated with the public relations department of the University of Nebraska college of medicine in Omaha—and loves her work.

OK COURSE you know that the Swansons—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence—are in New York City this morning—and later today will be meeting their daughter, Miss Kathryn Swanson and Miss Jacqueline Merritt, who are arriving home from Europe today.

TO OMAHA for a portion of Thanksgiving day will go Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Porter and their four-months-old son, Charles, who will be the dinner guests of Mrs. Porter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Turk—Mr. Porter's mother, Mrs. D. B. Porter, also will be a dinner guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Turk—and later in the day will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Porter and their son back to Lincoln, in plenty of time for the family dinner this evening for which Mr. and Mrs. Alfred DuTeau will be host and hostess at the Lincoln Country Club.

Absent from the family group will be Airman 2C Louis DuTeau and Mrs. DuTeau (the former Dottie Perry) who now are en route to Airman DuTeau's new station in northern Oregon. However, Mrs. DuTeau's mother, Mrs. Arthur Perry, joined them in Denver and is accompanying them on the trip to Oregon—so that the young DuTeaus will not be completely family-less on the holiday.

Films Forum Hears Talk

The regular meeting of the Lincoln Films Forum was held Monday afternoon following luncheon at the YWCA. A talk on, "Film Futures and Titles," was given by Mrs. Clara Cook who told the group that tomorrow's theater-goer can expect many more films in 3-D and cinema-scope with the latter featuring colorful epic films and panoramic "westerns."

Announcement was made of the National Motion Picture conference to be held in New York City, March 22 to 24, when plans for a federation of motion picture councils will be completed.

The next meeting of the forum will be held January 25.

Bride On Wednesday

Miss Carole Church, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kent Church, became the bride of Jack William Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Walker of Beaumont, Tex., at a late afternoon ceremony, Wednesday, November 25. The church of First Presbyterian Church was appointed with arrangements of white and yellow pompon chrysanthemums and lighted by white cathedral candles for the 4 o'clock service which was solemnized by Dr. C. Vin White.

As the church candles were lighted by Miss Beverly Beal and Mrs. Don C. Secord, who wore white satin choir robes, Mrs. Robert Fletcher sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied by Miss Grace Finch, organist, who also played the wedding music.

Miss Barbara Church was her sister's maid of honor and wore a full-skirted frock of powder blue net over taffeta designed in the ballerina mode. A softly shirred stole of net accented the strapless bodice and she wore a bandeau of net and taffeta. Wearing an identical ensemble in yellow net and taffeta was the bridesmaid, Miss Barbara Deibler of Harrisburg, Pa. The attendants carried nosegays of yellow and blue-tinted pompon chrysanthemums.

White Rosepoint-type lace and nylon tulle over satin fashioned the bride's gown. The decollete of the lace-over-satin bodice was veiled with tulle and covered by a bolero of lace designed with a rolled collar and long, fitted sleeves. Tiers of tulle fashioned the full, waltz-length skirt, and her short-illusion veil was held by a tulle cap banded with satin. She carried a white prayer book marked with a bouquet of white rosebuds.

Jack McKenzie of Dallas, Tex., served as best man, and the ushers were Don Saltee of Ava, Mo., Charles Todd III, of Beaumont, Tex., Dwain Ehrlich of Hebron, and Norman Church of Lincoln.

Mrs. Walker is a former student at the University of Nebraska and a member of Delta Delta sorority. The bridegroom attended Lamar College, Beaumont, Tex., and is a graduate of Texas A and M College, Bryant, Tex.

Bethany "Dads" Go To School

A unique "fathers' night" program was presented Tuesday evening by Bethany PTA when the dads got a taste of what school is like today for their children. Members of the faculty gave a series of demonstrations explaining modern methods of teaching ranging through art, by Miss Ysobel Rudell; reading, Mrs. Elizabeth Meade; physical education, Art Hillman; social studies, Mrs. Shirley Wenzel; and music, Mrs. Alice Munnis. Squeezed into their sons' and daughters' desks, above as they listen to a lesson conducted by Mrs. Meade, are, from left to right, Carl Hartman, Kai Anderson, David Wing, Charles Hoffman, Leonard Davidson and Elton Lux. Mr. Lux, whose wife is first vice president of the PTA, presided at the business meeting, after which the fathers served refreshments.

Hearing Set On Plan To Drop Bick Bus Run
The application points out that the Postoffice Department has discontinued mail service on this route. Without this, operating expenses are more than the revenue, the company contends.

Stromboli Jolted
STROMBOLI, Sicily (AP) — A severe earthquake shook this Italian island Wednesday and sent residents running in panic from their homes. There were no reports of casualties or damage.

142,000-Man Cut By Army Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department wants the Army to prune another 142,000 men off its rolls in the next fiscal year beginning July 1, 1954.

This was disclosed Wednesday by Assistant Secretary of Defense John A. Hannah as he explained manpower goals which the Defense Department hopes to attain under the administration's economy program. Hannah declared it possible to make the cuts without impairing the combat effectiveness of divisions, fleets and air wings.

Hannah, in outlining the objectives, made it plain that no mandatory orders had been issued to the Army, Navy or Marines to cut strength to specific figures to meet an overall, net reduction for all services of 230,000.

He said quotas had been suggested and the services told if they could not meet them to submit their own estimates for further study by the Defense Department.

Total of 1,281,000

The proposed personnel cut for the Army in the coming fiscal year would bring the service to a strength of 1,281,000. That would mean that in two years following the cessation of hostilities in Korea, Army strength would be tapered down gradually by a total of 249,000 men. During the present year the reduction will amount to about 107,000.

However, strength in the Far East will remain unchanged until a firm peace is agreed upon in Korea.

The Defense Department's program would mean a 75,000 reduction for the Navy in the coming fiscal year, to bring it down to a force of 670,000. The Marine Corps would be reduced 23,000 to a force of 207,000.

The Air Force is the only service headed for an increase — up 10,000 to a new strength of 970,000 during the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Judge Defies Ouster Order

Wm. Clark Won't Quit Appeal Post

FRANKFURT, Germany (U)—The highest judge of the American court system in Germany said Wednesday he would ignore a State Department dismissal order—and challenged the department to remove him.

The judge is William Clark of Princeton, N.J., chief justice of a three-man Appeals Court, heir to the Clark thread millions and a persistent critic of U.S. high commission policy in Germany.

He told a news conference the State Department had decided it could not control him, "so we'll throw him out."

William Clark

U.S. High Commissioner James B. Conant, whom Clark described as "my old Harvard friend," passed along Monday a cable from Secretary of State Dulles which the judge said in effect declared him surplus.

The high commission released the text: "For Conant: Advise Clark department decided not extend his appointment due probable decline business courts, expected further economy measures beyond its expected expiration date Jan. 8. Advise Clark report department on or about Dec. 3 for 30 days consultations prior termination. DULLES."

Clark said he will defy the order to return to the United States and continue to head the Appeals Court as usual, regardless of whether he is paid. Though his regular four-year term ends next Jan. 8, Clark contends his tenure is indefinite. He said the law is that removal of a judge must be "for cause"—inefficiency, com-

Peterson Is Candidate For School Land Post

Harold F. Peterson, former superintendent of the Beatrice State Home, Wednesday was added to the list of applicants for the office of secretary of the Board of Educational Lands and Funds.

Peterson also is a former secretary of the Board of Control, Henry Bartling, present secretary of the Board of Lands and Funds, plans to retire Feb. 1.

Clark said he believed his criticism of high commission policy was at the bottom of the order.

He has been particularly sharp in his criticism of a U.S. high commission law which provides that no German official can be brought into American-run courts as defendants unless Conant agrees.

In a letter to the State Department Clark declared the directive for his removal was like saying "the head is surplus to the body."

"I have never heard of the chief justice of a three-judge court being redundant," the letter said, and reported there are 142 appeals pending which will take six months to handle.

Superior School Building Pacts Let

SUPERIOR, Neb. (U)—Letting of contracts for a new one-story concrete grade school building in Superior were announced Wednesday by Supt. of Schools Eugene L. Rarick.

The building, for which contracts totaling $244,036 were let will include 12 grade rooms and several activity rooms. A $275,000 bond issue was voted in May for the construction. General Architect Joe Radotinsky of Kansas City said construction should begin in December.

The general contract of $180,998 went to the Martin K. Eby Construction Co., Wichita, Kan.; the electrical contract of $9,994 to the Erickson Electric Service, Holdrege; the heating and ventilating contract of $16,527 to the Globe Sheet Metal Works, Salina; and the plumbing to George H. Wentz, Inc., of Lincoln, for $16,000.

This new building will increase Superior's school plant to three grade school buildings, a senior and junior high school. Rarick said there were more than 20 bidders from four states at the letting.

WASHINGTON (INS)—Adlai Stevenson declared Wednesday night that Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), has shaken the world's confidence in the Eisenhower administration.

The titular head of the Democratic Party also said: "Senator McCarthy, it seems to me, has issued new orders to the administration."

Stevenson's remarks apparently referred to McCarthy's nationwide television and radio speech Tuesday in which he called on President Eisenhower to rid the government of Communists.

The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee said: "It is up to the administration to decide what happens now. People everywhere have lost much faith in the stability and fair play of the American government."

At Odds With Ike

"I hope the administration will move confidently to restore that faith—and it can if it will," Stevenson arrived in the capital enroute to spend Thanksgiving day with friends near Baltimore.

Stevenson planned to return to Washington Monday to lunch with Robert Meyer, new Democratic governor-elect of New Jersey.

Earlier Wednesday in Montgomery, Ala., the Democratic leader said that McCarthy apparently is at odds with the President in predicting that the question of Communism in government will be the major issue in next year's election campaigns.

Referring to McCarthy as "the woe of Wisconsin," Stevenson commented that there would "come a time when these contradictory viewpoints (between McCarthy and President Eisenhower) no longer serve the national interest."

L. L. Coryell Estate Left To His Wife

The entire estate of L. L. Coryell Sr., prominent Lincoln oil man and apartment house owner who died last Thursday, has been left to his wife, Daisy, under a will filed in Lancaster County Court.

The will, dated Feb. 8, 1950, suggests, but does not make it an obligation, that the wife set aside sums of money from time to time for the L. L. Coryell Park Foundation.

It also states "I have every confidence she will make gifts from time to time to those persons and to charities in which we are interested."

In rejecting all previous wills or codicils by this will, the testator noted the death of his son, L. L. Coryell Jr.

The wife is named executrix in the will which suggests that she name Lester L. Dann and Martin A. Katt to administer the estate.

A codicil dated April 15, 1950, provides that should his wife die within 10 days of his death, half of the property would go to the L. L. Coryell and Son Park Foundation, Inc., and half to a niece, Mary Bailey, and sisters-in-law, Pearl Parker and Myrtle Miller, to share and share alike.

This bequest would also have held if the wife had died first, or at about the same time as Mr. Coryell.

No bequest to a granddaughter, Lorraine L. Coryell, the codicil states, for the reason she has been provided for through an insurance trust.

Police Hold Youth, 14, On Alleged Dyer Count

A 14-year-old youth who weighs close to 200 pounds and shaves regularly was brought to the Lincoln jail Wednesday for alleged violation of the Dyer Act in driving a stolen car across state lines.

The husky youth, who was born in Iowa and lived in Kelso, Wash., reportedly gave himself up to sheriff's authorities in Valentine along with the stolen car. Another youth with him, AWOL from the army, also turned himself in.

Wednesday Dep. U.S. Marshall Earl W. Sweeney of Grand Island brought the boy to Lincoln to await action on the Dyer Act charge.

Tax Response Is Still Heavy

Gov. Crosby's mail continues heavy and favorable to his "Operation Honesty" program for better personal property assessment, his administrative assistant said Tuesday.

Among letters commending the governor for his position on the question of honest assessments was one from an officer in a church women's group at Burwell.

An assessor in a central Nebraska county, a Holdrege business man, a former state official, and a McCook attorney were others writing in to praise the governor's stand.

A Superior, Neb., woman enclosed 50 cents to buy some of the "Operation Honesty" buttons which the governor expects to be ready for distribution next month.

James Diesing, the governor's assistant, said the money would be returned with thanks.

"The governor is paying for the buttons himself. They will be of the lapel clip-on type, with blue lettering on white background," Diesing said.

A Clay Center man wrote that the present system of self-assessment of personal property is "like the bank examiner calling the banker into his office in the city and asking about his bank accounts and then giving his OK."

Toastmasters Elect P. A. Siren New Head

P. A. Siren was elected president of the Lincoln Toastmasters Club Wednesday night.

Siren will complete the unexpired portion of the term of Noel Brennan, who resigned recently. The remaining portion of the term expires next February.

Churchill Names Aid

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Churchill has picked Lord Cherwell, Britain's top atomic policy expert, to accompany him to the Dec. 4-8 Bermuda conference. Official sources said they will press for closer British-American co-operation in the atomic energy field. Churchill's other senior adviser will be Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Cambridge Study May Affect Many

4 Agencies Collecting Information

CAMBRIDGE, Neb. (P)—An important geological investigation is going on in the Cambridge area, which may soon affect the thinking and planning of farmers and conservationists in many sections of the country.

Four federal agencies and the University of Nebraska are collecting information on precipitation, runoff and sediment loads in streams in the 660-square mile area northeast of here which drains into Harry Strunk lake.

The agencies are the Federal Geological Survey, Bureau of Reclamation, Weather Bureau and Soil Conservation Service.

KBON Withdraws Channel 7 Request

WASHINGTON (P)—The Inland Broadcasting Co. (KBON) Wednesday withdrew its application to the Communications Commission for television Channel 7 at Omaha, Neb.

There are two other applicants for the channel, the Herald Corp. and the KFAB Broadcasting Co. KFAB's attorney, George S. Smith, told a reporter in commenting on KBON's withdrawal: "So far as I can see all it does is to eliminate one of the competitors."

Unique Proposal Made By Tenant

FALLS CITY, Neb. (P)—A Richardson County farmer renting on shares has hit upon a plan to solve his differences with his landlord over fertilizers.

The tenant, who wants fertilizer, suggested that he will fertilize four rows of corn and skip four rows. Each four fertilized rows will belong to him, the others to the landlord.

No matter what the landlord decides to do about it he'll have to wait until the end of the crop year to do it.

Danish Group Marks Fiftieth Anniversary

CORDOVA, Neb.—A. C. Christiansen was honored as the only charter member at the 50th anniversary of the Cordova Danish brotherhood. He and Franz Quella of Beaver Crossing were presented with 50-year pins.

Erosion Studied

The studies are expected to furnish detailed information on erosion and flood and sediment problems at strategic points in the basin.

"Water is the area's big erosion cause," said Bob Piest, who is in charge of the Geological Survey office at Curtis. "The high intensity rains wash away much valuable land, cut new gullies yearly and make the old ones deeper and wider. Occasionally, however, some local deposition occurs as minor water courses change."

"I hope by the end of the project—which should cover a wide variety of rainfall and runoff conditions—we'll be able to determine the extent of the erosion and provide information that will afford a better understanding of many sediment problems."

Omaha Is Planning Bridge Tournament

OMAHA (P)—For the first time in several years, Omaha will be host next Feb. 12-14 to a major bridge tournament.

Explosives Truck Involved In Crash; No Blast, Injuries

AURORA, Neb. (P)—An accident involving an explosives truck and a car-trailer combination occurred at the north edge of Aurora but the four persons in the vehicles escaped with only bruises and there was no explosion.

The explosives truck and the old model car pulling a two-wheeled trailer were westbound on Highway 34 when they were in collision. The truck left the highway and took the other vehicle with it, according to Aurora Police Chief Clarence Campbell.

Driver of the tractor was Earl E. Taylor, 37, East Omaha. In the car were James E. Brown, 37, the driver, and his parents, who said they had been living in Montana but were moving to Grafton, Ill.

Traffic was diverted around the scene for nearly four hours while the truck was pulled back to the highway.

Cash Plus Damages Requested

OMAHA (AP)—A group of preferred stockholders in the Universal Finance Corporation has filed an amended petition in its receivership action against the corporation bringing General Acceptance Corporation into the action as a defendant.

The action asks cash for their stock plus damages and an accounting.

The original suit alleged that the officers and directors of the company in a prospectus distributed in 1952 that the company had a net worth of $760,000 after providing for payment of liabilities, and that the company "falsely and fraudulently concealed the fact that a suit in the financial statement did not exist and were of doubtful value."

The amended petition also makes General Acceptance Corporation a defendant, the stockholders alleged that after the filing of the action the projected sale of the prime assets was abandoned, but only after the prospective purchasing firm, the competing "Securities Acceptance Corporation, had been given considerable information about the firm's affairs."

It alleges that after the filing of the original action the common stock of the firm was sold to General Acceptance Corporation and the stockholders were told that General Acceptance would advance money to pay all indebtedness.

Enjoinment Asked

The stockholders alleged that Universal Finance Corporation has entered into negotiations for sale of liquid prime assets including ownership of United Financial Service and Pioneer Insurance Agency. They asked that the court enjoin the officers from selling the assets.

In the amended petition, which also makes General Acceptance Corporation a defendant, the stockholders alleged that after the filing of the action the projected sale of the prime assets was abandoned, but only after the prospective purchasing firm, the competing "Securities Acceptance Corporation, had been given considerable information about the firm's affairs."

It alleges that after the filing of the original action the common stock of the firm was sold to General Acceptance Corporation and the stockholders were told that General Acceptance would advance money to pay all indebtedness.

Loss Cited

The petition said that General Acceptance refused to pay in cash but instead offered to trade one share of General Acceptance stock for 2 1/2 shares of the preferred stock which would result in a loss of $3.00 per share.

The new suit asks cash payment for the assets and damages, and an accounting.

The suit was brought by Charles and Mary Laune and Laune Chevrolet Co., all of Ashland, and Elmer Reeling, Luella Egan, John J. Egan Sr., Virginia Jones, Sam Mozer, and George Novotoff, all of Lincoln, on behalf of all the preferred stockholders.

Defendants are W. L. Wilcox, president; Carl E. Scheer, vice president; other directors, subsidiaries of Universal and the General Acceptance Corporation.

Fireman Pinned In Wrecked Truck For 30 Minutes

OMAHA (AP)—A fire hose truck was in collision with a car at 24th and Hamilton Sts., here Wednesday and a fire department lieutenant, Robert L. Green, 54, was trapped in the front end of the truck for more than 30 minutes.

Green suffered shock and a cut hand.

The driver of the car, M. J. Palladino, 56, Omaha, suffered fractures and a possible skull fracture.

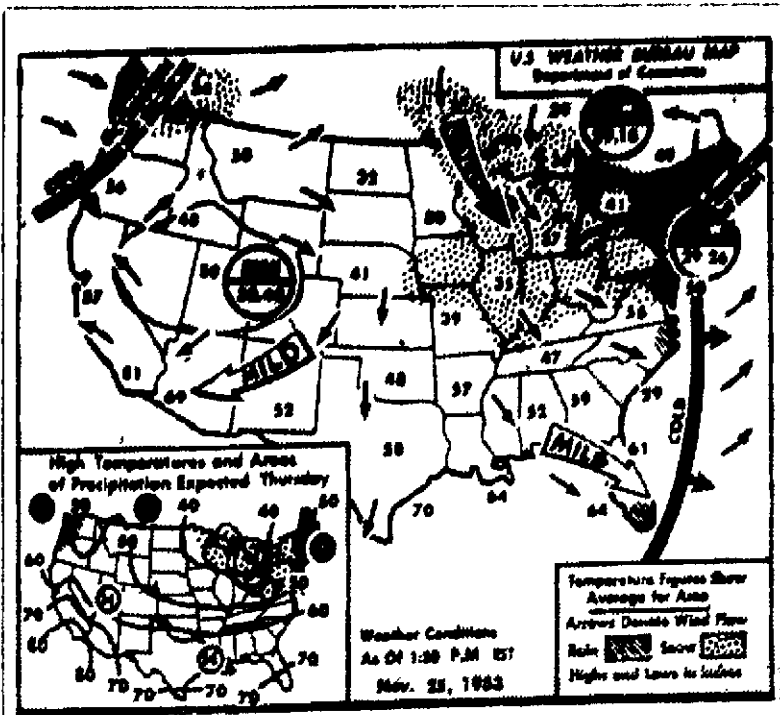

The truck was answering a call to 3515 Hawthorne Ave. where a fire in the attic was believed to have been started by children playing with matches.

After the collision, the fire truck careened 90 feet down the street before crashing into a tree. Lt. Green was pinned by his leg.

The Palladino car was virtually demolished.

Reclamation Area Offices Will Remain

Reorganization Won't Hit Grand Island, Ainsworth

WASHINGTON (AP)—Plans for reorganizing Region 7 of the Bureau of Reclamation, do not call for elimination of area offices at Ainsworth and Grand Island, Neb., it was disclosed Wednesday.

And although the district office at McCook, Neb., will be abolished as such, a consolidated projects office will be maintained at McCook, Interior Secretary McKay announced.

The McCook office, which will handle such essential functions as were formerly maintained in the district office, will be known as the Kansas River Projects Office.

Plan Approved
The general reorganization plan for the region has been approved and will be implemented as rapidly as possible, McKay said.

Region 7 includes the southern part of the Missouri Basin lying principally in southeastern Wyoming, eastern Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas and the Arkansas drainage area above Ellingwood, Kan.

Regional Director Avery A. Batson has been in Washington conference with Reclamation Commissioner W. A. Dexheimer concerning reorganization plans.

Regional headquarters will remain at Denver.

Loveland Office
District offices at McCook, Denver and Casper, Wyo., will be dropped but a consolidated projects office will be established at Loveland, Colo., by Jan. 1, 1954, to handle some of the functions formerly handled by the Denver and Casper district offices. Necessary personnel will be retained at Casper to maintain certain essential services.

Area offices at Pueblo, Colo., and Ainsworth and Grand Island, Neb., will handle principally planning activities in connection with proposed projects in those areas, will be maintained. Other small field stations in the region will remain as organized until shifts in the program warrant adjustments.

Commissioner Dexheimer said he expects the reorganization to cut down personnel costs.

GI Bill Course OK Available At Vets Regional Offices

Veterans wanting to know whether courses they plan to take under the Korean GI Bill have been state-approved may get this information from the nearest Veterans Administration regional office, Ashley Westmoreland, regional office manager here has announced.

Westmoreland emphasized that the regional office is the only VA office which will have the information. He also suggested that veterans do not ask the regional office for complete lists of approved courses in all fields.

He suggested that a veteran should have a good idea of the type of training he wants when he contacts the VA for information. If the veteran isn't sure what training he wants, he may avail himself of the VA's counseling service, Westmoreland added.

Butler Agrees Reds Big Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Butler (R-Md.) said Wednesday he agreed with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) that the Communist-in-government issue will be a big one in the 1954 campaign but he added "I don't know that it will be the big one."

Asked whether he thought it might overshadow, for instance, the farm aid issue, the senator said "it may very well do that."

Butler added that he thought McCarthy's speech was great so far as it defined Trumanism."

More than 300 youths, representing churches of the Nebraska Council of Churches, will hold a Nebraska Youth Conference in Lincoln Friday and Saturday at the Trinity Methodist Church.

Featured speaker at the conference will be Dr. Frank C. Laubach, Christian missionary who is credited with helping to teach more than 50 million persons to read and write.

He will speak Friday at 3:15 p.m. to the conference and will speak again at 7:30 p.m. at a public service to which all persons are invited to attend. The Trinity Youth Choir will sing at the public service.

On Saturday, Dr. Laubach will hold a discussion session with the conference members.

Registration for the conference opens at 2 p.m. Friday. Dr. Laubach began his career as an educational missionary of the Congregational Church to the Philippines 25 years ago. Since that time, the number of persons whom he has helped to learn how to read and write are 50 million—speaking 234 different languages or dialects and live in 54 different countries. His system is now being used in India, after the Indian government asked for his services under the Point 4 program.

Christian Science Speaker Stresses Divine Love Action

You can rely on God, divine love, for the solving of problems not merely with "beautiful hope," but with expectation of "dynamic power," Arch Bailey of Sacramento, Calif., told a large audience here.

Far from impractical, prayer based on spiritual understanding of God as divine Love actually heals sickness, discord, fear, and moral problems, Mr. Bailey said. He added that many people are proving daily that this is true.

On nationwide tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, he spoke under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Lincoln, in Hotel Cornhusker ballroom. His lecture was on "Christian Science: The Joyous Way of Love," and he was introduced by Henry A. Wendland, First Reader.

To regard love as only a mood of meditation is a mistake, Mr. Bailey said. Love transforms a person's whole experience, he declared.

"Jesus taught that there were no greater commandments than love for God and love for one's fellow men," he said.

Describing Christian Science as "a religion of sustained prayer," Mr. Bailey said: "This way of following the Christ embraces the healing of sin, disease, and death, includes the model of thought and action found in the Sermon on the Mount, and leads on to the origin and ultimate of all being, God." This is divine Love in action, he said.

Funds For Deaf School Addition Are Requested

The board of control has asked the state "defrosting" committee to release funds for construction of an addition to the school building at the state School for the Deaf in Omaha.

The project also would include some remodeling of the present structure. The total cost is estimated at $194,000.

The committee consists of the governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and attorney general. Approval of this committee was required for release of state building levy funds when the legislature "froze" expenditures for construction as a defense measure in 1951.

'Western Europe Aid Can Be Cut'—Stassen

Recovery In Western Areas Said 'Uniformly Favorable'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign Aid Director Harold Stassen Wednesday moved to meet congressional criticism of the overseas assistance program by announcing that aid to Western Europe can be cut considerably in the next financial year.

He wrote four congressional committees that a recent on-the-spot study of European conditions had convinced him military aid to that area can be reduced considerably and economic help ended with few exceptions.

There has been a mounting chorus of criticism of foreign aid among the lawmakers, particularly those who have made inspection trips to Europe since Congress quit.

The 1954 session will have to decide whether the mutual assistance program continues all in its present form. The legislative authority expires next June 30; no additional funds could be voted for the next fiscal year starting July 1, 1954, unless the authority is extended.

President Eisenhower has set up a commission on foreign economic policy whose report early in the 1954 session is expected to have a bearing on what happens to foreign aid.

Both Stassen and Secretary of State Dulles have said they expect foreign assistance of some sort will have to continue quite a while.

Main Feature Clock

Schedules for the week of Thanksgiving are as follows: "Kiss Me Kate," 1:00, 3:05, 5:10, 7:20, 9:30. "The Robe," 12:20, 2:45, 5:05, 7:30, 9:50. "Varsity," 1:33, 3:33, 5:33, 7:33, 9:33. "State," 10:45, 12:5, "Clipped Wings," 12:00, 2:25, 4:55, 7:25, 9:55. "Joy," 10:12, "A Lion Is In The Street," 3:55. "Nebraska," "A Yank in the R.A.F.," 1:19, 4:37, 7:55. "The Golden Blade," 3:07, 6:25, 9:43. "Capitol," "The Caddy," 1:27, 5:16, 9:15. "South Sea Woman," 3:29, 7:28.

Stassen's report to the Senate and House committees dealing with appropriations and foreign affairs was made after he returned from a meeting of the 17-nation organization on European economic co-operation.

Western Europe has received the great bulk of American aid funds since World War II although its proportion tapered off in the program approved by the 1953 congressional session for the current fiscal year.

Of the $4,531,500,000 in new funds voted for this year, European countries were allotted $2,250,000,000.

Stassen told the committees that he had found data on recovery in Western Europe to be "uniformly favorable—more so in some cases than in others."

Industrial output in the area has increased 7 per cent in the past year, with Germany, Italy, Britain and The Netherlands showing the most gains, he reported.

There is very definite indication that Western Europe can maintain substantially its current defense budget, and at the same time move forward on a sound economic basis, with a considerable reduction in United States military assistance, and also with a few exceptions—the determination of United States economic assistance," Stassen said.

No Bad Habits

DALLAS (AP)—George Gallo, 49, had just finished telling how he robbed the East Main Street branch of Fidelity Title & Trust Co. in Stamford, Conn., of about $26,000 last Sept. 10. An FBI agent offered a cigarette to Gallo. "No thanks," Gallo said in a cool tone to Agent Vincent Drain. "I don't have any bad habits."

WISHING WELL By William J. Miller

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
